CHAPTER II.—THE PRINCE.

Some friends are helping, most loving more fully; —
This life is most joyful.

— Shakespeare.

Rosalie had just restored her health, so that he could pocket, and again leaned over the gate, endeavouring to assume a carefree attitude; but she was very much annoyed, for the young man who was so gallantly escorting a much befringed and beribboned lady was no other than Sam Bell, and Rosalie's heart was not then Sam Bell's. After the young man had said that she would be given some time to consider his proposal, Rosalie had resolved him, the telephone. Mr. Dickson was with Sir Roderick Butler in that march to the relief of Ladymouth which was followed by readers so eagerly all through the civilized world. He was an eyewitness at Colenso and Spion Kop, and at last, at the relief of Ladymouth. After that he joined Lord Kitchener in the attack on Pratloo, and under both commanders he enjoyed ample opportunities of getting notable pictures. It must be said that he availed himself liberally of these opportunities, and the book before us, with its numerous illustrations, will be highly valued by the public.

CURRENT LITERATURE.

THE BIOGRAPHY IN BATTLE.

Amongst the most interesting of the kind of many books which have been called forth by the war in South Africa is undoubtedly "The Biograph in Battle," by W. K. L. Dickson (T. Fisher Unwin). We all know the advantage possessed by the man who can illustrate his book by pictures, and we must make the better for it if the pictures were taken from a spot which is indeed a paradise. Of course sometimes neither employer nor employee has any fault, but we are allowed to suppose that this is rare.

"The Winter Magazine," for February contains interesting short stories by Barral Pais and E. Phillips Oppenheim. "Artillery Hoy" begins a series of "Dally Tales," and there is a new story in "The Sunday Post." "The Queen's Pub" has a new edition (the fourth) of "Fair Girls and Gray Horses," by Will H. Ogilvie. The work is attractively got up.

"The Calendar of Empire," by Jan Malcolm, M.P., is a book which is likely to be highly attractive to be commanded as well as to read and to have great appeal as for the novelty of the design. It connects dates with names and events which are worthy of constant remembrance throughout the British Empire.

Mrs. Macmillan and Co. publish in "Sermons on the Books of the Bible" an interesting series of volumes, which appeared in "Volume Sermons" by the late Dr. Weston J. A. Howard.

In "Bookkeeping for Business Men," (Macmillan and Co.), Mr. J. Thornton and his son, Mr. S. W. Thornton, aim with marked success at the explanation and application of the principles of good book-keeping. The book may be confidently recommended to young traders who want to acquire a complete grasp of the art.

CHINA'S ONLY HOPE.

Moses, Oliphant, Anderson, and Morris publish a translation by the Rev. S. J. Woodbridge of "China's Only Hope," by H. L. Chang Chih-Tung, the Vicar of Hupeh and Hunan. The book was written soon after the close of the war between China and Japan, at a time when it was thought that the reformer, who would be acceptable to the Powers interested, in the development of China would be acceptable by the ruling classes in China also. The sum of Chang Chih-Tung's proposal is the renaissance of Confucianism and the adoption of Western science and methods. He knowledge of the Chinese language and of their customs, but his suggestion of reform—which was crushed when the Empress-Dowager practically deposed the Emperor and made merciless war on the reformers—shows that for his position he had an enlightened view of the real wants of the Chinese Empire.

"Well," said Isaac, squatting down sideways at Rosalie's hand. "Well, Mrs. F., did you take all over the place?"

"I told you I had to see the big mead," retorted Alice a little doubtfully.

"Ah, I'm sure he thought that improved. Well, and then you took 'em up to see the root crop."

"No, we didn't go there; we didn't like to go too far, as you were here within."

"Why, I am all right. Here Isaac slowly lit the pipe, and again gazed down at it. As taking the hint, she withdrew it, he gently rubbed the place where it had rested.

"You took 'em down to the corn-field, though," he continued. "I'll excuse them that oaks were comic on wonderful."

But they had to go to the corn-field, it was apparent, and round the potatoes, now round by the vegetable garden, now through the orchard, they had just been to his head and back.

"Well," commanded Mr. Sharp, gazing at them in amazement, "ye must 'a' walked on common soil!"

"We stood for some time looking at the view," said Richard, seeing Rosalie somewhat confused.

Federal Quay. The liberal services is held to be furnished by the large trading houses, the Leichhardt houses being among the best of the whole system. The average bill has been $4000 per month.

Railway Commissioners anticipate that with the additional facilities common to the electric lines being brought into use the whole system will be more than twice as large as it is now.

St. Patrick's Day.—The anniversary of the patron saint of Ireland occurs to-morrow. As Monday is, however, deemed by those most interested in the matter a more suitable day for such festivities as are contemplated the Government have determined the day a public holiday throughout the State of New South Wales. It will be remembered that when the late Queen's Bath took place the celebration of Anniversary Day was postponed to Monday next.

Gold Coast.—Moses Howard Smith and his steamer Tyrian, from Queensland ports, brought down yesterday 26 boxes and one parcel of gold weighing 24,870 d.

Gumming Disease Case.—There was a slight variation yesterday in the proceedings connected with the Cunningham disease case. The trial at the Court of Appeal, 10 a.m., was adjourned by the Sheriff's officer, pro-claimed to St. Mary's Cathedral to inspect the building mentioned in the course of the trial, as well as the Cardinal's hall and the offices attached to the presbytery. Mr. Barr, who was a clerk of works in connection with the alterations, said the services were to have been paid there at the direction of Mr. Justice Owen. He explained to the jury the nature of the alterations that were made. On the Court adjourning at 11 a.m. Mr. C. H. Cooper (surgeon) was examined and gave evidence on behalf of the petitioner. Cardinal Moran then went into the box, and was examined at considerable length by the petitioner, after which he was cross-examined by Mr. Ward. The other witness examined was Thomas Walsh, who was a presbytery boy in the early part of March, 1898. The Court then rose at 1 p.m.

The Benevolent Asylum.—A permanent building in George-street, Sydney, by the Benevolent Society of New South Wales are required for a new site. The trustees at Headlers board and directors of the buildings are looking for another site. Sir Arthur Rowwick and Mr. William Hansen (the honorary solicitor to the board of management) waited on the Colonial Secretary yesterday morning in reference to the same. It is apparent from the school of industry at Darkeston that the indoor department of the board's operations, but there is a difficulty in regard to the handing over of the premises for such a purpose as that which the board controls. The average consumption of food is much less than that consumed bread alone. Even in Victoria, where the consumption of wheat is 340 lb. per inhabitant, the consumption of potato is 258 lb. per annum for each inhabitant. This, it is true, has been explained away, as the committee in charge of that institution can legally claim it is a matter for consideration. If such can be the site is admirably suited to be converted into asylum purposes, but some additions will be required to meet the needs of the inmates. It will require other premises, and Mr. Seale is endeavouring to ascertain whether there are any suitable available for their purpose, the North Shore line. He is also making inquiries in the subject of the power of the committee of the School of Industry to alienate their present premises.

Dath at Prince Alfred Hospital.—A man named Arthur Henry, a patient at Prince Alfred Hospital, died yesterday morning. Deceased, who was employed at Canterbury, complained of pain in his head on Thursday morning, but proceeded to his work as usual. He returned home about 4 p.m. and was staggering across the yard with a handkerchief to his head. His wife, a girl of 18, who had been brought up in the house, and had been immediately become unconscious. Dr. Dym was called in, and ordered her removal to the hospital. Constables Burn and Walker, who had been admitted suffering from hemorrhage of the brain, and died as stated. The matter had been reported to the coroner.

The Postman.—The Deputy Comptroller (Dr. J. E. Hotel) initiated an inquiry yesterday regarding the death of a young man named William Bryan Lawton, who was drowned on Sunday last owing to the capture of a sailing boat. After evidence of identification had been taken the inquest was adjourned until to-day at the Coroner's Court.

Death of Australians at Kildyshe.—A private letter from an Australian in Dawson City, near the frontier, Kildyshe, enfielded in Yukon Territory, Canada, records the death of two Australian miners, who left Sydney for that country in the steamer Ascari over three years ago. On January 12 last Bernard (or "Barney") de Wet, 35, and his son, 15, were found dead.

Burney.—Burney, who was a native of Ireland, about 35 years of age, had three brothers in Western Australia, in which colony he had also spent some time, and was also well known on the Goldfields. Burney, a brother, was in the local hospital of typhoid fever. Burney, who was about 30 years of age, was a native of Harrietville, near Bright, Victoria, where his parents reside. Prior to his death he was in company with three other Australians working a mine.

We have received the annual report for the year 1900 of the Young Men's Christian Association to the effect that the total amount of money received for the past year, up to the end of the Water Conservation Branch, has received from the Public Service, and entered private practice, £1000. Mr. McLean, who was a member of the Waterway Commission, was appointed engineer for water conservation, and his work consisted of the work was the endorsement that it remained with him.

At a recent meeting of the Northern Suburbs Municipal Council it was decided to write to the Electoral District Commissioner to the effect that the census was of opinion that it would be to the interest of the northern suburbs if the boundaries of the northern suburbs were extended to include the eastern waters. Waterworks which were then being started. Subsequently, Mr. McLean was appointed engineer for water conservation, and his work consisted of the work was the endorsement that it remained with him.

A great deal has been made of the alleged number of unemployed in Sydney as an evidence of the failure of a free-trade policy. A learned publication in the U.S.A. states that there is quite a large number to be found in Melbourne in spite of the enormous exodus of population from Victoria to one of two conclusions, or, perhaps, to both—that the standard of living is higher than in Victoria, or that there is a larger proportion of the population in Melbourne than in Victoria.

Mr. Chamberlain implied in the course of his speech that the Government would afford indulgent passages abroad the transports to a number of selected female emigrants.

VICTORIA DAY.—The steamer Survey, which left Falmouth this morning with 1000 men and 1000 tons of stores for South Africa, arrived at this afternoon the west beach in Moreton Bay.

THE FISCAL FIGHT.

BY FIGHTERMAN.

As the fight goes on the side lines raised in the fiscal protection become more and more confused, though the one definite issue remains clear enough. One of the selected protectionist candidates declared this week that the only triumph which could be claimed for Cobden was the repeal of the corn laws. Well, that was a complete triumph, considering the magnitude of the opportunity which the leaders of that day had to offer. Then the same candidate made the following startling assertion—“that is to say, as coming from a protectionist.” Of course we are all agreed that a tax upon bread was wrong. But from a protectionist it is a very different story. The growth of corn and the grinding of it into flour are industries in England, and they are native industries here. Why should not the farmer be protected as well as the boot or the clothing manufacturer? As the candidate in question was one of the selected side of the protectionist party he may be prone to believe that the farmers have nothing to hope from the protectionists, even if protection could do anything for them. But they have a good deal to fear, because protective duties will certainly cause them to heavier taxation than they would have to pay under a free-trade policy.

As an instrument of amusement and sometimes of instruction fiction has its uses. It is being largely drawn upon the present contest by the protectionist candidates. There is no hiding the fact that Victoria has lost population at a most alarming rate during the last nine years, and the reason is that a very large number of those who have left Victoria have settled in New South Wales. It has been reserved for another to make the arrangements previously cabled, the King and the Queen will land with the Duke and the Duchess of Cornwall and York on the Ophir, and will proceed to Port Said, March 20; Port Said, March 20; Colombo, April 12; Madras, April 21; and finally, after two days at Gibratir, Malta, and Singapore, one day at Aden, and four days at Colombo. The suite of their Royal Highnesses will be formed by the Duke of Connaught, the Earl of Athlone, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke of Albany, the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester, and the Duke of Kent.

ANOTHER PLAGUE CASE AT PERTH.

PERTH, Friday.

Another undoubted case of plague has been reported. The patient is a youth aged 17 years, named David White. He only became ill this morning, and he has the disease in a bad form. Its origin is still a mystery.

CHINA.

NEGOTIATIONS SUSPENDED.

LONDON, March 15.—Renter's correspondent at Shanghai states that the negotiations between the Ministers of the Powers and the Chinese Plenipotentiaries, are reported to be suspended, owing to the trouble over the Manchurian Convention between Russia and China.

THE NAVAL CONTINGENT IN CHINA.

A telegram was received yesterday by his Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor in China, stating that the Naval Contingent force, consisting of the frigates of the Royal Navy, will be ready to sail up the Yangtze River as soon as possible.

MILITARY DISPLAY AT BRISBANE.

BRISBANE, Friday.

It is expected that between 4000 and 5000 troops will go into camp prior to the visit of the Duke and the Duchess of Cornwall and York. The Boers will draw only a small portion of the force, and the remainder of the troops in camp will be held during the Royal visit.

ARMY REORGANISATION.

CONDAMNATION OF THE GOVERNMENT SCHEME.

BY LEADING OPPONENTISTS.

LONDON, March 15.—In the House of Commons last night the debate continued on the scheme for the reorganisation of the army introduced by Mr. John Brodrick, Secretary of State for War, on Friday last.

SIR HENRY CAMPBELL-BANNERMAN, the leader of the Opposition, and Sir William Harcourt condemned the scheme as being unnecessarily aggressive and suggestive of coming concatenation.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, the leader of the House, denied the charge of wanton aggression. It was, he said, imperative that the army should be ready to defend the Empire and enable the Government to comply with treaty obligations.

EMIGRATION TO SOUTH AFRICA.

PROBLEMS GOVERNMENT AID.

LONDON, March 15.—In addressing a meeting of the British Women's Emigration Association yesterday, Mr. Chamberlain, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, said that he anticipated that hundreds of thousands of men would proceed to South Africa after the war, and there would be a proportionate emigration of women.

Mr. Chamberlain implied in the course of his speech that the Government would afford indulgent passages abroad the transports to a number of selected female emigrants.

EMIGRATION TO SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, March 15.—The Liverpool City Council is spending £1,000,000 in building model dwellings for the poor of the city.

RE-HOUSING OF THE LIVERPOOL POOR.

LONDON, March 14.—The Liverpool City Council is spending £1,000,000 in building model dwellings for the poor of the city.

The steamer Survey, which left Falmouth this morning with 1000 men and 1000 tons of stores for South Africa, arrived at this afternoon the west beach in Moreton Bay.

THE VICTORIAN LOAN.

LONDON, March 15.—Tenders for the Victorian 3 per cent. loan of £30,000,000 close on the 22nd instant. It is generally considered that bondholders will be treated generously.

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH states that the loan looks attractive.

INFLUENZA IN LONDON.

LONDON, March 14.—The Boers despatched a train on Monday at Wilge River, east of Pretoria. A British blockade on the vicinity for two hours prevented 600 Boers plundering. Eventually the train was sacked and burnt. Three British soldiers were killed. The Boers shot eight natives who were travelling in the train. Reinforcements arrived, and 15 Boers were killed and many wounded.

BUSHMAN SCOUTS AT PIENAAR'S RIVER.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Friday.

It is proposed to expend £1000 in decorating the city in honour of the Duke and the Duchess of Cornwall and York.

MURDER OF BRITISH PRISONERS.

LONDON, March 15.—The Boers shot two British prisoners at Wolmaranstad in South-eastern Transvaal, and three burghers because they refused to fight.

COMMANDANT DELAIRE ordered the execution of the five men out of revenge for the defeat inflicted on him at Hartbeestfontein, west of Bloekop, by Lord Methuen.

CONINGHAM DIVORCE CASE.

THE NEW TRIAL
CONTINUATION OF THE PETITIONER'S CASE.

CARDINAL MORAN EXAMINED.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.—
The new trial of the divorced suit Coningham v. Coningham, in which Mr. Justice Arthur Coningham, formerly Dowling, on the ground of his adultery with Dr. Daniel French, was granted a divorce from his wife, Alice Stanhope Coningham, formerly Dowling, on the ground of her adultery with Dr. Daniel French, was adjourned at the New South Wales Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Owes on Friday last.

Mr. J. H. Want, K.C., and Mr. A. G. Balston, appeared for the co-respondent.

The co-respondent applied for a decree nisi in respect of the adultery committed by the respondent for a divorce in respect of damages.

The jury, after 10 o'clock proceeded to St. Mary's Cathedral, where they inspected the grounds. Accompanying the jury were a sheriff's officer and Mr. Barr, the side of the works engaged when alterations were made open to view.

WITNESSES DISPERSED WITH.
THE JURY.—
At 11 o'clock, when the Court recessed, Mr. Want said that the date, June 20, had been abandoned by the petitioner, the witness he had called in reference to the marriage of Mr. Coningham and Mrs. Coningham, formerly Dowling, to Mr. Coningham, formerly Dowling, was one month earlier than the date of the trial, and that the witness had come from Port Macquarie. He was fairly entitled to know definitely what the date was.

He said he did not know.

Petitioner said he could only take the evidence of the respondent. It was not his place to say what it was.

Mr. Want :—Mrs. Coningham is in the box and she was called on the date June 20, and now says she altered took place on that occasion to place on July 1. Mr. Want wants to know whether you (petitioner) can give any reason to say the date July 1, or whether you are still to say the date June 20.

Petitioner :—I am going to rely on your evidence, Mr. Want, and that will do.

Mr. Want :—They is no need to keep the witness.

Petitioner :—But I get them.

Mr. Want :—Because you always go out by the front door.

Mr. Want :—I beg your pardon. I have seen them elsewhere. If anything occurs before the Court I will call them in with them, but I have no need to prove before the Court.

EVIDENCE OF RESPONDENT'S SISTER.

THE WOOL TRADE.

FRIEYING.—A week, a fair amount of business has been done in late period from previous catalogues, and the sale of new goods in London regarding the same recently opened there is not very dear that last week's auction rates have been well maintained. For the better class of greasy wool ranging, say, from 6d upwards, there are no buyers could be got, and this was found to apply to all classes of qualities, for which old to 1d would be a fair quotation. For these, however, buyers would not stand to their auction offers, whilst for lines inferior in quality, condition, or get-up, and particularly so for unskirted parcels, little disposition was shown even though the price of their private sale. The whole of this is but a small sample of generally experienced with the various grades of wool. There is almost always the best market for the best samples. Occasionally, as was lately the case with scoureds of good quality and get-up, there may be a temporary better demand for lower sorts, but it is very seldom that a good article will stand up to a bad appearance.

THEATRE ROYAL.—The final performance of "The Scarlet Pather" is sure to attract a large audience to the Theatre Royal to-night. Miss Nellie Stewart will be revolved by Mr. J. C. Williamson at Her Majesty's Theatre to-night, when a series of beautiful scenes will illustrate "Kreutzer" and Moscow and the great names seen at the rock of St. Helena. The chief characters will be the first appearance of Mr. C. W. Cook, Mr. N. H. Newell, Mr. G. Moore, Mr. General Augustus, Mr. Cyril Kitchell, Muriel, Mr. Harry Hill, Mrs. J. V. Hazlitt, Admiral Keith, Miss Alice Cook, Miss Alice Phipps, Josephine, Miss Linda Raymond; Stephenore Massé Louise, Miss Alma Vaughan; Stephano de Beauchamp, Miss Anna D'Alton; Madam Campan, Miss Ethel Spiller. There will be a matinee of "A Royal Divorce" on Wednesday.
